

Report of Seminar on "Intersectional Identities: Exploring Gender, Caste, and Class in Indian Women's Fiction"

Topic	"Intersectional Identities: Exploring Gender, Caste, and Class in Indian Women's Fiction"
Organized by	The Department of English, Silda Chandrasekhar College, In collaboration with IQAC, Silda Chandrasekhar College.
College/State/National/International Level	State Level
Date	22 January, 2024
Number of Participants	79
Speaker/ Resource person	Dr. Ujjwal Kumar Panda, Assistant Professor, Hooghly Mohsin College, Chinsurah, Hooghly, West Bengal.
Remarks/brief description	The seminar began with an Inaugural song. Honourable Principal, Dr. Susanta Kumar Dolai, delivered the inaugural speech. Atanu Bera, Head of the Department, and the Organizing Secretary set the tone of the Seminar. After that our resource person, Dr. Ujjwal Kumar Panda, delivered the Key-note address. He discussed the concept of intersectionality and mentioned that it is a powerful analytical tool for understanding how various forms of oppression, such as those based on gender, caste, and class, overlap and influence one another. Then, all the presenters presented their papers one by one. In the valedictory session, we expressed our gratitude to the dignitaries, invited guests, the resource person and the presenters. Finally, the Department thanked and congratulated all our colleagues, students for their significant role and active participation in making the seminar a grand success.

Some photos of the event

[Signature]
24.09.24
Coordinator of the Seminar

[Signature]
24/09/24
Principal
Silda CS College
Silda, Jhargram